

Valplast® Manufacturer's Statement of Limited Warranty

VALPLAST INTERNATIONAL CORPORATION ("Valplast") warrants that all flexible partial denture products processed from Valplast resin according to Valplast's specifications and machinery by a laboratory certified in Valplast techniques by Valplast are warranted for life of the patient or actual period of use of the partial (whichever occurs first) against breakage, fracture and failure due to defects in the Valplast material under normal and proper use.

The warranty does not apply to the results of accident, abuse, neglect, and vandalism, use contrary to Valplast's specifications or instructions, exposure to strong oxidants or temperatures above 110° C and repair or modification by anyone other than Valplast or a qualified dentist or dental technician within normal techniques. Such exposures will void this warranty.

The warranty does not apply to artificial denture teeth and any bond between the teeth and product made from Valplast resin.

This warranty applies pending verification through examination and analysis by Valplast International Corp. that the flexible partial claimed to be a Valplast® Flexible Partial is in fact fabricated from Valplast® resin. If circumstances prevent Valplast International Corp. from examining the partial prior to fabricating a replacement, Valplast International Corp. reserves the right to present an invoice with the replacement partial that will be credited in full upon verification that the original partial is an authentic Valplast® Flexible Partial.

Any dental appliance that was made from Valplast resin but not processed according to Valplast's specifications and machinery by a certified Valplast laboratory may be covered by this warranty at Valplast's discretion after its own evaluation of the appliance.

Remedy under this warranty is limited to full replacement of the dental appliance by Valplast directly without regard to the processing laboratory or dental professional involved in the original fabrication of the appliance. This warranty supplements and does not replace any warranty regarding workmanship that may be provided with or without limitation by the processing dental laboratory originally fabricated the denture. The laboratory may determine that a defect is due strictly to workmanship and find remedy by correcting or remaking the appliance under or outside their own warranty.
